The Chorlton market offers huge development potential of becoming a community hub. In our project, we aim to transform the terraces of the shops into multi-use pop up stalls, independent shops and food outlets providing users a fine and extravagant community experience. The ground level alleyway and public square are meta-morphed into a vibrant shopping and retail experience providing people a chance to interact with independent business owners, have a breather and celebrate. The market acts as an Anchor that can be established as a permanent community celebration space bringing in more people of surrounding neighborhoods. The Appearance of the market, how vertical linkage of the landscape can be used as a buffer, will give a social character to the market space.
