

Group 08 // Unfolding the High Street

Distribution of Space

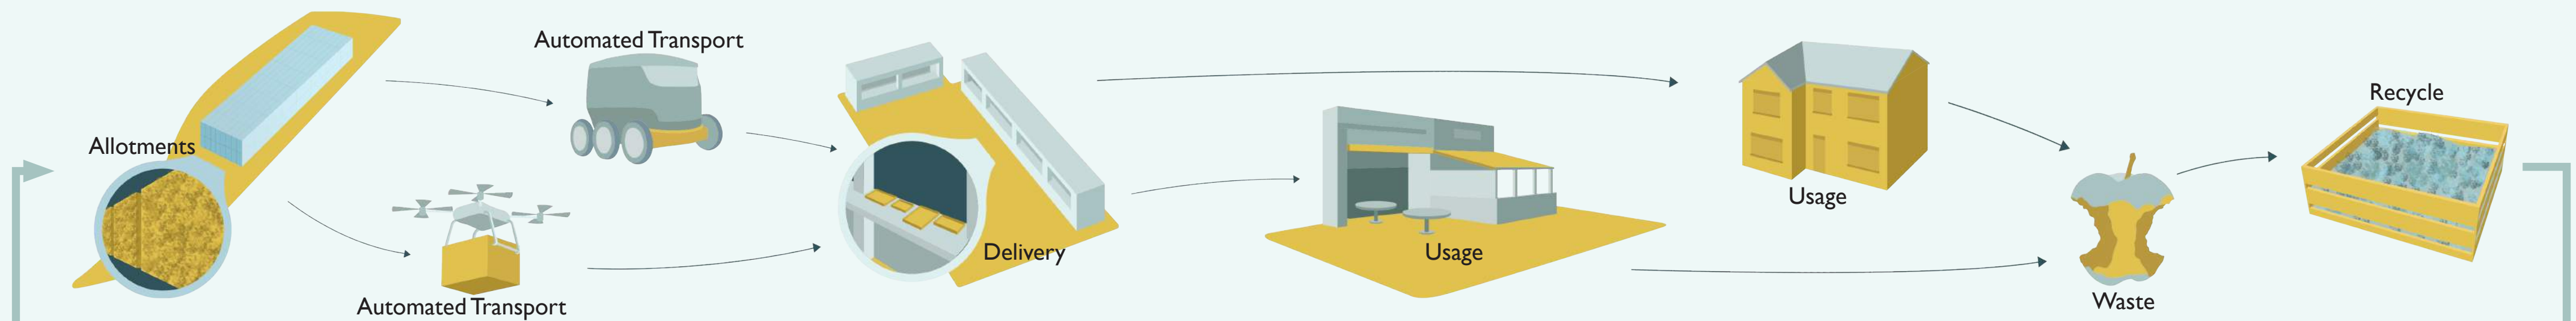

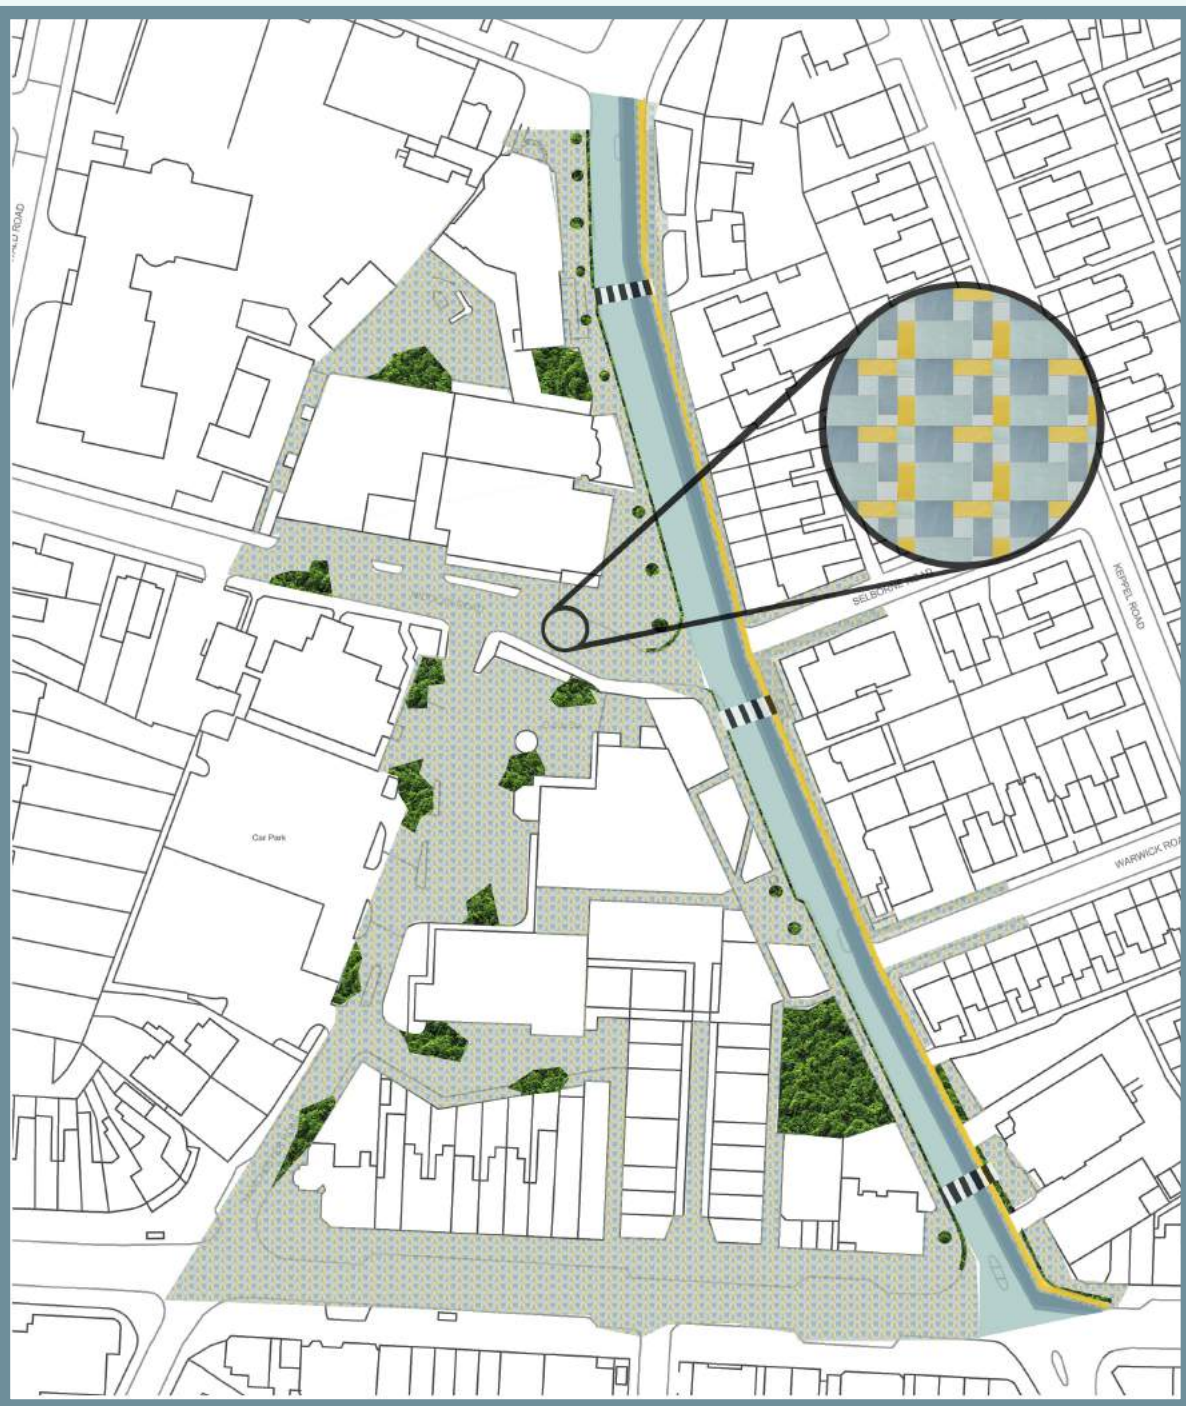

Through highlighting the idea of a market as central to the life of a town we look to transform Chorlton to keep up with the changing times and advances in technology without eradicating the community feel. The concept promotes buying and selling of Chorlton's products via market stalls which spill out onto the highstreet and are transported between areas by robots. The scheme supports Chorlton's independent highstreet shops whilst still encouraging other Manchester producers to promote the town as a place of local talent and creativity. We envision Chorlton Precinct to become a newly extended highstreet resulting in a more flourishing, more connected community.
